

Dallas Central Appraisal District

The Protest Process

Begins April 15, 2026

The right to protest to the Appraisal Review Board (ARB) is the most important right you have as a taxpayer. You may protest if you disagree with any of the actions the appraisal district has taken on your property. But who or what is the Appraisal Review Board and what are their duties? What actions can I protest? How do I protest? What happens when I file a protest? Hopefully, this will answer all your questions about the protest process. To answer these questions, the information is divided into eight topics:

Appraisal Review Board Procedures

Appraisal Review Board \(ARB\)

Protesting Your Value

Residential Electronic/uFile Online Protest

Informal Review with Appraisal District Staff

Formal Hearing before the ARB

District Court/Binding Arbitration

Other Common Questions

A. Appraisal Review Board (ARB)

1. What is the Appraisal Review Board?

The Appraisal Review Board is a group of private citizens authorized to resolve disputes between taxpayers and the Appraisal District. ARB members are appointed by the Local Administrative District Judge of Dallas County for two-year terms. Although the Appraisal Review Board is funded by the Appraisal District, they are appointed by the Local Administrative District Judge. The ARB is a separate authoritative body. No employees or officers of the Appraisal District or the taxing units it serves may sit on the ARB. To qualify for service on the ARB, an individual must be a resident of the Appraisal District for at least two years prior to taking office. Any person who is a former member of the governing body or officer or employee of a taxing unit, or is a former director, officer, or employee of the Appraisal District is ineligible to serve. Also the person's close relatives cannot work as professional tax agents or tax appraisers within the Appraisal District. ARB members also must comply with special conflict of interest laws.

Dallas Central Appraisal District

The Protest Process

The ARB determines taxpayer protests and taxing unit challenges. The ARB also determines if the Chief Appraiser has granted or denied exemptions and agricultural appraisals properly. The ARB's decisions are binding only for the year in question. The ARB begins protest hearings around April 15 and finishes by the middle of July. The ARB meets throughout the year on a monthly basis to carry out supplemental duties. ARB meetings are open to the public. The ARB establishes its own Procedures and Rules that govern its operations. For cost savings purposes, the ARB typically meets at the Appraisal District office. There are up to one hundred twenty (120) members on the ARB of Dallas County.

2. What are the ARB's Duties?

Under the law, the ARB has these specific duties:

1. Determine protests initiated by property owners;
2. Determine challenges initiated by taxing units;
3. Correct clerical errors in the appraisal records and the appraisal rolls;
4. Act on motions to correct appraisal rolls under Section 25.25 of the Texas Property Tax Code;
5. Determine whether an exemption or a partial exemption is improperly granted and whether land is improperly granted appraisal as provided by Subchapter C, D, or E, Chapter 23, Property Tax Code;
6. After it has completed substantially all protests, the ARB approves the appraisal records.

B. Protesting Your Value

1. What can I protest?

You can file a protest by May 15, 2026 if you disagree with any action taken by the Appraisal District that affects your property. You may file a protest if any of the following is true about your property:

- The proposed value of your property is too high.
This could be based on incorrect information on the Appraisal District records, such as lot size, building size, etc. It could also be due to situations that the Appraisal District does not know, such as hidden defects, cracked foundations, inadequate plumbing, flooding problems, etc. If similar properties are selling for less than your property, you may have a reason to protest.
- Your property is valued unequally compared with other property in the Appraisal District.
The Texas Constitution gives property owners the right to equal and uniform taxation. For instance, if your property is appraised at 100% of market value and similar properties are appraised at 90% of market value, then you have a right to protest your value based on the Appraisal District's failure to appraise equally and uniformly. This type of protest will require more evidence than other types of protests.

The Protest Process

- The Chief Appraiser denied you an exemption.

Certain requirements exist for receiving an exemption, including deadlines for filing. If you have met the requirements and are denied an exemption, you may file a protest and have a hearing before the ARB. To receive an exemption, a person must apply for the exemption with each Appraisal District in which the property has situs. Some exemptions require an annual application. For more information, see the Exemptions or Frequently Asked Questions page on this site. For various exemption applications, see the Forms page on this site or contact the Customer Service office at (214) 631-0910.

- The Chief Appraiser denied agricultural appraisal for your farm or ranch.

Like exemptions, you must apply to receive an agricultural appraisal. Agricultural appraisal laws have specific requirements involving ownership and land use. If your property meets these requirements and you have been denied, you should file a protest. For more information about the agricultural requirements, see the Exemptions page on this site.

- The Chief Appraiser wrongly determined that you took your land out of agricultural use.

An appraisal may have been done while your land was lying fallow, or for rotation of crops. You will be required to provide documentation to prove that you did not change the use of your land to a non-agricultural use.

- The appraisal records show an incorrect owner.

Even if you purchased your property after January 1, you may protest the property's value until the ARB approves the appraisal roll. The law recognizes the new owner's interest in the taxes on the property. After 90 days from the date of closing on a property, if the appraisal record does not reflect the current ownership, please contact the Customer Service office at (214) 631-0910.

- Your property is being taxed by the wrong taxing units.

This generally applies to business personal property that has moved from one location to another. You can protest the inclusion of your property on the appraisal records if it should be taxed at another location in Texas.

- The Appraisal District or ARB took other action that affects your property.

You have the right to protest any Appraisal District action that affects you and your property. For example, the Chief Appraiser may claim your property was not taxed in a previous year and you disagree. You may protest only actions that affect your property.

The Protest Process

2. How do I protest?

Beginning on April 15, 2026 for residential and/or commercial real estate or May 12, 2026 for business personal property, protests to the ARB can be filed by electronic communication via the DCAD website using the Online Protest Program, uFile, or in written form. The ARB will not accept protest filings by facsimile or e-mail submissions. The Appraisal District has forms for protesting, but an official form is not necessary. Any written notice of protest will be acceptable as long as it identifies the owner, the property that is the subject of the protest and indicates apparent dissatisfaction with an action or decision taken by the Appraisal District. Please identify the property in question (property address/account number); state the nature of the protest (i.e., market value) and it is helpful to attach any applicable documentation that you would like for us to review. If using the Online Protest Program, you need to follow the simple instructions for filing your protest online. A protest must be filed by May 15, or no later than 30 days after the Appraisal District delivers a Notice of Appraised Value to you, whichever is later. However if the protest deadline falls on a weekend or holiday then the protest deadline is the first business day after that date. The deadline to file a written protest for real property for the 2026 Tax Year is May 15, 2026. It is very important to file the protest on time. If you mail your protest, please mail it to the address listed on your Notice of Appraised Value or to 2949 N. Stemmons Freeway, Dallas, TX 75247. It must also bear a post office cancellation mark by midnight May 15, 2026. If you deliver your protest in person, you must have it in our office before the office closes on May 15, 2026. The office doors are locked promptly at 5:00 P.M. If you file your residential or commercial protest using the Online Protest Program you must file your protest online before midnight May 15, 2026. Please check the deadline dates on your Business Personal Property Notice of Appraised Value/Notice of Protest form for protest deadline on these properties. If you fail to file a protest on time, your options are limited. Once the written protest is received, a hearing is scheduled by the ARB. The ARB will give you at least 15 days' notice of the date, time and location of your hearing. The Appraisal District will also send you a copy of Property Taxpayer's Remedies (a publication of the State Comptroller's Office), a copy of the ARB hearing procedures, and a statement that you have the right to inspect the information that the Appraisal District plans to introduce at your hearing. There may be a charge for some of this information.

3. Can I file a protest via the Internet or fax?

Most properties may be protested online via the Internet by using the uFile Online Protest Program on the website of the Dallas Central Appraisal District at www.dallascad.org. The online protest for residential and commercial property must be submitted by the deadline on or before midnight on May 15, 2026. The online deadline for business personal property is on or before midnight on June 11, 2026. The ARB will not accept protest filings by facsimile or e-mail submissions.

The Protest Process

4. What is uFile?

uFile is an online system for filing property owner protests and handling disputes over a property's value. In the traditional system, you file your protest by mail or in person, wait to be scheduled for a formal protest hearing or you visit the Appraisal District offices and speak with an appraiser prior to that scheduled formal hearing. Protests can be settled at the informal meeting with an appraiser. If the protest is not settled, you can appear before the Appraisal Review Board of Dallas County at your scheduled hearing. In the uFile system, you file your protest online. You will get a confirmation that your protest has been filed within one business day. If you have not received confirmation that your protest has been filed then please check your e-mail spam/junk file prior to contacting DCAD.

The Dallas Central Appraisal District (DCAD) would prefer that all property owners to file their protest using DCAD's uFile Protest and Settlement System (uFile System) instead of visiting our office to speak with an appraiser or mailing in a protest. Property owners who take advantage of the uFile Online Protest and Settlement System, upload documentation, and provide an opinion of market value will have their protest and proposed value reviewed by appraisal staff members and will receive an e-mail response prior to their ARB Hearing. You may access the uFile System by searching your account on our website at www.dallascad.org and selecting the link, "uFile Online Protest". You will need your Personal Identification Number (PIN) in order to access the uFile System. Your PIN is located at the top left-side of your Notice of Appraised Value. If you are unable to locate or did not receive a Notice of Appraised Value then you may request a copy of your PIN through the uFile system by selecting the Request PIN to be sent by Email option. Please note that requesting your PIN through the uFile system does not constitute a filed protest. If you file a protest using the online uFile System do not file a written or duplicate protest.

5. When can I file my protest using uFile?

Beginning on April 15, 2026 and on or before May 15, 2026 you may file your protest online using the uFile Online Protest Program for 2026 for residential and commercial properties. You may begin filing online protests using the uFile Protest Program for business personal property beginning on May 12, 2026.

6. How can I file my protest using uFile?

- a. Beginning on April 15, 2026, in order to file your protest using the uFile system on the Dallas Central Appraisal District's website, navigate to (www.dallascad.org).
- b. Click on the "Search Appraisal" function in the Navigation Links box on the left of the screen (<http://www.dallascad.org/SearchOwner.aspx>).
 - i. You may search by Owner Name, Address or Account Number.
- c. Once you are on the details page of your property, simply click on the "Online Protest" link and it will take you through the steps to file your protest online.
- d. The following provides general steps on how to use the uFile system, but it is essential that you review all instructions carefully, along with acceptable data types and size limits.
 - i. Step 1: uFile Online Protest System page, enter PIN, Security Code, and select Login.

Dallas Central Appraisal District

The Protest Process

- ii. Step 1: uFile Online Protest System page, enter PIN, Security Code, and select Login.
 - iii. Step 2: uFile Notice of Protest for Year 2026 page, you must select a reason for protest. You may also select if you would like a copy of the ARB Hearing Procedures and/or if you would like to expedite your hearing date.
 - iv. Step 3: uFile Owner Protest Documentation page, you may upload documentation (file type must be .PDF, .JPG, .XLS or .XLSX and not exceed 8 MB per file or 15 MB total, maximum 20 separate files) and enter your Opinion of Value (recommended).
 - v. Step 4: uFile File Protest Screen page, once contact information is verified you must click File Protest. You should receive automated confirmation that your protest was filed. If not, please contact the Appraisal District.
- e. If you file an online uFile protest, please do not file a manual or duplicate protest for the same property account number.

Please remember that the deadline to protest residential and commercial properties is on or before May 15, 2026, and business personal property is on or before June 11, 2026, whether filing online, via US Mail, or by personal hand delivery.

7. Can I file multiple protests using uFile?

uFile allows only one protest to be filed at the account level. If you have multiple properties and wish for them to be scheduled together, then you must mail them in via US Mail or deliver the protests in person. To be scheduled together you must attach (staple) all protests together.

8. I sent in documentation with my protest. Why have I not heard from anyone?

In some instances appraisers are unable to review documentation attached to a protest until a day or so before the ARB hearing. However, if you attached documentation to your protest and you have not be contacted by DCAD by phone or e-mail at least 3 days prior to your scheduled ARB Hearing, then please call and ask to speak with an appraiser so they can pull your protest and review your documentation with you. If they are able to make an adjustment that you are in agreement with, there may be no need for your formal ARB hearing. Please check your hearing date and time and if you have not heard anything from the Appraisal District and your issue(s) remain unresolved then you need to attend your scheduled hearing before the ARB.

9. I forgot to file a protest. Can I still get my value lowered?

No. If a taxpayer does not file a timely protest, neither the appraiser nor the ARB can make a value adjustment to your property. You should follow up on your issue(s) after August 1. If you believe there are good cause reasons (i.e., hospitalization) as to why you could not file a timely protest, then you should write the ARB, state the facts and document (provide medical receipts on hospitalization) your reasons. The ARB will make a determination and respond back to you in writing. Forgetting to file a protest or not knowing the protest deadline are not considered good cause reasons to grant you a late protest. If you believe there is a clerical error or substantial error associated with your property value, then you should speak to an appraiser who will clarify if there are any remedies available to correct the clerical error or substantial value error.

The Protest Process

10. May I withdraw my protest using uFile?

Yes. But after July 16, the uFile system is unavailable for withdrawing protests so you will need to contact DCAD via a phone call or e-mail to withdrawal your protest.

C. Informal Review with Appraisal District Staff

1. Do I have to go to an ARB hearing to settle my issue(s)?

If you are able to resolve your issue with an appraiser informally then you are not required to go an ARB hearing by telephone or in person to settle your issue. The best way to do this is to file a protest and submit your evidence and opinion of value and/or what action should be undertaken by the District to resolve your issue assuming your issue is not a value related protest. DCAD appraisers will not conduct an informal hearing and settlement offer concerning the valuation of property unless a protest has been and evidence has been submitted as to the owner's opinion of value.

Prior to your ARB Hearing, in most instance, the appraisal staff will review your evidence and will reach out to you prior to your ARB hearing by Telephone or e-mail. DCAD would encourage all property owners to file their protest and submit their evidence utilizing DCAD's uFile online protest program as this will typically streamline the protest settlement review process by DCAD's appraisal staff members. You can also submit your protest and evidence via the U.S. mail or by hand delivering it to DCAD's office. A drop box is available 24/7 at DCAD's office.

Once your protest and evidence is reviewed by an appraiser and it warrants a change, an appraiser will contact you by phone or e-mail to possibly resolve your issue(s) without the need for an ARB Hearing. If a DCAD appraisal staff member has not contacted you with a phone call or e-mail response at least 3 business days prior to your scheduled ARB Hearing then DCAD would encourage you to call the appropriate Division and request a review of your protest and evidence submitted. The ARB has adopted a set of Standards of Documentation that details the type of data and information that you should present.

You may talk to an appraiser via a telephone call up until the day before your hearing, if you have filed a protest. If you have not filed a protest, you may discuss the value until thirty (30) days after you received your Notice of Appraised Value. The protest deadline is printed on the Notice of Appraised Value. If we are able to resolve your issue prior to the ARB hearing, then there is no need for an ARB hearing. However, if we are unable to resolve your issue(s), then an ARB hearing is needed.

Most residential properties may qualify for the uFile Online Settlement Offer Program. This program is only available when using the uFile Online Protest Program. If your property qualifies for the uFile Online Settlement Offer Program you will be alerted when you file your protest on the uFile Online Protest Program. Residential property owners may be eligible to settle their property value by submitting documentation and evidence to substantiate their claim and providing an opinion of value. Most neighborhoods are eligible, but some neighborhoods may not be eligible because of the complexity of the market in those neighborhoods. Also, you would not be eligible for a settlement offer if your property is represented by an authorized tax consultant; if your property is classified as a Land only account; if the property account has an existing protest filed; or if the protest reason is not value related. Only certain Residential properties are available for Online Settlement Offers. If you are not eligible for the program, the settlement offer will not be extended to your property. The Settlement Offer feature has been targeted for those neighborhoods that have extremely homogeneous properties. However, property owners may still file a Residential protest online even if the property does not qualify for a Settlement Offer.

The Protest Process

For Commercial and Business Personal Properties, DCAD does not provide guaranteed uFile settlement offers like Residential properties who meet the requirements for a uFile settlement offer. However, for Commercial and Business Personal Property owners who use the uFile protest system, in most instances, a DCAD appraiser will respond with a uFile settlement offer if the property owner has provided sufficient documentation and an appraiser has had time to review the information prior to an ARB hearing. If this occurs, then DCAD will send you an uFile e-mail settlement offer.

2. Do I need to visit the DCAD office to resolve my issue(s) with an appraiser?

No. If you submit your protest and evidence using DCAD's uFile online protest program or you submit your protest and evidence via the U.S. mail or by hand delivering it to DCAD's office, an appraiser will review your protest and evidence and will contact you by phone or e-mail prior to your scheduled ARB Hearing. It is not necessary to visit DCAD's office to resolve your issue informally with an appraiser as DCAD can conduct an Informal Telephone hearing with you or will respond to you using DCAD's uFile Online Settlement Offer Program if you used this preferred method of filing a protest.

DCAD would encourage all property owners to use DCAD's uFile online protest system as this is the preferred method to file a protest and submit your evidence in order for an appraiser to review your property valuation if you disagree with DCAD's proposed valuation.

If you just have general questions about the appraisal and protest process or DCAD's operations then DCAD would encourage you to call the appropriate Division.

3. Can I negotiate a value over the phone?

No, if you have not filed a protest and submitted evidence on your value position. In order for an appraiser to make a value adjustment, he/she needs to follow the ARB's Standards of Documentation (which is the same as adopted by the Appraisal District), which means he/she needs to support a value adjustment with documentation provided by the property owner. If you have provided evidence with your protest submittal and a DCAD appraisal staff member has not contacted you by phone or e-mail at least 3 days prior to your scheduled hearing then please contact the appropriate Division to have an Informal Telephone hearing with an appraiser. If the appraiser is unable to resolve your issue(s) with an Informal Telephone hearing then you will need to attend your ARB Hearing.

D. Formal Hearing before the ARB

1. What is a formal hearing before the ARB?

If you are not able to resolve the protest informally with an appraiser, your protest will be heard by the Appraisal Review Board (ARB). The ARB is a group of citizens who are authorized to resolve disputes between Appraisal Districts and taxpayers.

A hearing before the ARB is conducted very much like a court case, although less formal. The ARB sets its own procedures with guidelines from the State Comptroller's Office. The ARB provides single member panels, but at the time of your hearing you may opt in for a three member panel hearing.

Typically, after formal introduction of the parties and the property involved, the ARB will hear evidence from the Appraisal District and property owner and make a judgment based on the evidence presented. Each party, the Appraisal District appraiser and the property owner, will have approximately 5-7 minutes to present their case and evidence at the hearing. Each party is allowed a rebuttal. The entire hearing typically takes approximately 15 minutes and the property owner will know the ARB's recommendation before they leave the hearing. After a decision is made by the ARB panel and approved by a quorum of the entire Board, a written Notice of Final Order is sent by certified mail to you or your agent. This decision is binding for the current tax year unless you file under binding arbitration or appeal to District Court.

2. Do I need to appear in person?

You have four choices: 1) you can a telephone hearing; 2) you appear in person; 3) you can appoint someone else to appear for you; or 4) you can submit evidence stating your facts and presentation by mail or email.

Telephone Hearing:

A property owner initiating a protest is entitled to appeal to offer evidence or argument without personally appearing and can do so by telephone. For a telephone hearing, a property owner is encouraged to submit the evidence at least five (5) days before a scheduled hearing to ensure adequate time for processing. Evidence and/or accompanying documents should state the property owner's name, address, property account number and telephone number. You can e-mail your evidence to the ARB to arbdocs@dcad.org .

Appear In Person:

You can appear in person at your scheduled hearing before the ARB. Make sure that you read your Hearing Notification carefully for the correct date and time of your scheduled hearing. Please arrive at least ten minutes before your scheduled hearing to properly check in.

Dallas Central Appraisal District

The Protest Process

Having Someone Else Appear For You:

You can authorize in writing someone else to appear on your behalf for either a telephone or in person hearing. If the person is your spouse or a co-owner of the property, you do not need to do anything to authorize the person. To authorize a friend or a family member other than your spouse, you must provide a written authorization for the person representing you, signed by you, the property owner. If you authorize someone besides a family member or friend (i.e., a real estate agent), you must obtain a copy of the Appointment of Agent for Single-Family Residential Property Tax Matters form from the Appraisal District and file it with our office. To authorize somebody who is paid for representing you, you must use a special Appointment of Agent form. This form is available from the Appraisal District. The person you select should be able to discuss the property from personal knowledge and should file the form as soon as possible. At the very latest, the person must provide the appropriate form to the ARB before or at the time of the hearing.

Evidence:

Your evidence and/or supporting documents must be received by the ARB before the scheduled hearing date. Delivering them to our office in via an e-mail is preferred but you can always hand deliver them to our office if needed as there's a drop box available 24/7 at our office. If you mail them, it is a good idea to send them return receipt requested. Be sure to mail them in plenty of time and be sure the address is correct. You should state that you swear or affirm that the information it contains is true. Please provide with your evidence a cover letter, the property owner's name, address, account number, property description, and the date and time of the hearing. You can also e-mail your evidence to the ARB to arbdocs@dcad.org.

3. What type of information or documentation do I need to provide before or at my ARB hearing?

The ARB and the Appraisal District have both adopted a set of Standards of Documentation (see question #7) that a property owner and/or agent should provide with an ARB protest hearing or to an informal review with an Appraisal District appraiser.

For telephone hearings, a property owner should submit evidence to be considered at the hearing. If the property owner provides documents, photographs, tables or other items, the owner should label those items prominently with the first being labeled PO Ex. 1, the second being labeled PO Ex. 2, etc. If the owner wishes to emphasize certain portions of an item, the owner should highlight those portions or otherwise set them off with colored marking. The owner should be specific and identify the evidence being submitted, i.e., photographs, closing statement, sales comparisons, etc. The Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts, Property Tax Assistance Division, has a Form 50-283, Property Owner's Affidavit of Evidence, which can be used to submit your evidence to the Appraisal Review Board. An affidavit is not required by the Dallas County ARB but an owner and/or can submit an affidavit with their evidence if desired. It is recommended that the evidence and/or affidavit be submitted to the ARB at least five days before the scheduled hearing. The form is available on the Comptroller's website:

<https://comptroller.texas.gov/taxes/property-tax/forms/>

Dallas Central Appraisal District The Protest Process

Before a hearing on a protest or immediately after the hearing begins, you or your agent and the CAD are required to provide each other with a copy of any materials (evidence) intended to be offered or submitted to the ARB at the hearing. Therefore, please bring 1 printed copy of any evidence you want the ARB to consider as part of your protest or be prepared to e-mail your evidence prior to or at the time of your hearing. Evidence may be submitted for any hearing either in paper or on a small portable device (such as a CD, USB flash drive or thumb drive) which will be kept by the ARB. Do not bring evidence by smart phone. The ARB will accept the following electronic file types on CD, USB flash drive or thumb drives only: Pictures: .JPG, PDF Excel: .XLS, .XLSX Word: .DOC, .DOCX.

The ARB will not accept evidence presented on any medium that cannot be retained and copied for the permanent record. No Video or audio files, or any evidence from cell or smart phones or other devices will be accepted.

4. Where can I obtain hearing information and data?

For Residential, Commercial and Business Personal Property accounts, if you have protested your property, you will receive a Hearing Notification of the date, time and location of your ARB hearing. You can request your hearing notice be mailed to you by certified mail, however there may be a charge associated with this process. You may also request your hearing notice be e-mailed to you. If you would like to receive your hearing notice by certified mail or by e-mail then you need to indicate in writing on the protest form itself under Additional Requests field and provide your e-mail address for e-mail receipt.

At the time an account is scheduled for a hearing, evidence that the Appraisal District may introduce at your hearing will be available on the DCAD website. In the top left hand corner of the Hearing Notification is a PIN No. (#). You may go to the DCAD website, www.dallascad.org, access your account, and enter the PIN No. (#) and it will provide you the information and data on your property account and other potential evidence DCAD used in establishing the market value of your property. You may also call the DCAD offices and talk to a Residential, Commercial, or Business Personal Property (BPP) appraiser who can also provide you the information and data on your property and the evidence DCAD will introduce at your ARB hearing. Within 14 days of your scheduled ARB Hearing you may request the evidence DCAD plans to introduce at your ARB Hearing and DCAD will provide it you if needed.

5. Once my property is scheduled for an ARB hearing, what type of information is available on DCAD's website when I use my PIN# to review this information?

For Residential property, DCAD provides you a Residential Neighborhood Value Review report which provides you the appraised values and other appraisal data for accounts within the subject property's neighborhood. Known sales prices and sale dates within a 36 month time frame are also provided for your review. The appraisal and sales data is the primary data DCAD uses to establish and support a uniform and equal value and a proposed fair market valuation. A Value Summary Sheet (VSS) is also displayed which provides a summary of the property related data that will be presented at the Appraisal

The Protest Process

Review Board hearing. Appraisal record screen shots are also provided. The DCAD website also provides additional property related data at the account level for all properties in Dallas County.

For Commercial property, DCAD provides you Improved Market Area (IMA) and Land Market Area (LMA) data which provides you the appraised values and other appraisal data for accounts within the subject property's IMA and LMA. Known sales prices and sale dates are also provided for your review. The appraisal and sales data is the data DCAD used to establish and support a uniform and equal value and a proposed fair market valuation. A Value Summary Sheet (VSS) is also displayed which provides a summary of the property related data that will be presented at the Appraisal Review Board hearing. DCAD website also provides additional property related data at the account level for all properties in Dallas County.

For Business Personal Property (BPP) accounts, DCAD provides you the appraisal related data used to establish and support the subject property's proposed fair market valuation. A Value Summary Sheet (VSS) is also displayed which provides a summary of the property related data that will be presented at the Appraisal Review Board hearing. The DCAD website also provides additional property related data at the account level for all properties in Dallas County.

6. Can I obtain any other data that may be used in my hearing?

According to the Property Tax Code, Section 41.461, at least fourteen days before a hearing on a protest, the Chief Appraiser shall inform the property owner that the owner or the agent of the owner may inspect and may obtain a copy of the data, schedules, formulas, and all other information the Chief Appraiser plans to introduce at the hearing to establish any matter at issue. This is only a notification that the information is available for inspection. When the ARB Hearing Notification is mailed to you fifteen days in advance of your scheduled formal hearing time, the Appraisal District will make available the data, schedules, formulas, and all other information the Chief Appraiser plans to introduce at the hearing. The Hearing Notification is the mechanism that allows the information to be made available for inspection at the Appraisal District fourteen days prior to the hearing. It is important to note, at the time an account is scheduled for a hearing, evidence that the Appraisal District may introduce at your hearing will be available on the DCAD website. In the top left hand corner of the Hearing Notification is a PIN No. (#). You may go to the DCAD website, www.dallascad.org, access your account number, and enter the PIN No. (#) and it will provide you the information and data on your property account and other potential evidence DCAD used in establishing the market value of your property. You may also call or visit the DCAD offices and request the evidence DCAD will introduce at your ARB hearing. DCAD will always provide you evidence when requested within 14 days of your ARB Hearing.

7. What form of documentation will the ARB accept for the hearing?

By law, a copy of all evidence submitted to the ARB must be retained for public record. Therefore please bring hard copies of any evidence you wish the ARB to consider. The ARB will not accept evidence presented on any medium that cannot be retained and copied for permanent record. NO video or audio files will be accepted. The ARB cannot accept any evidence from cell phones or smart phones, nor via email from any device.

Dallas Central Appraisal District

The Protest Process

The ARB of Dallas County encourages you to bring one (1) printed copy of any evidence you want the ARB to consider as part of your protest. The ARB will also accept the following electronic file types on CD and USB flash drives only: Pictures: .JPG, PDF; Excel: .XLS, .XLSX; Word: .DOC, .DOCX. Total documents size cannot exceed 15 megabytes, with a max size per individual file of 8 megabyte. A maximum of 20 individual documents can be uploaded.

STANDARDS OF DOCUMENTATION

RESIDENTIAL REAL ESTATE:

You should provide documentation that supports your market value position. If you have recently bought your home, then you should provide a copy of your closing statement and/or fee appraisal if one was done for financing purposes. If you have not recently purchased your home, you should try to provide comparable sales, broker's opinion of value, and/or any sales information that you feel supports your position. If your property has any conditional problems and/or repair issues, you should provide pictures and/or professional repair estimates of the problem areas. If you have had a recent fee appraisal undertaken, this information should be provided as well. See the golden color insert that was sent with your appraisal notice concerning the ARB's Standards of Documentation and evidence for the ARB.

Sale of Subject Property

A signed and dated closing statement is required. The closing statement will include a description of the property being transferred. A copy of the sales contract and the volume and page number of the deed filing will be required in some cases for sales within the last 3 years.

Sales of Comparable Properties

Sales of comparable properties with photographs should include the following information, if available: 1) property address; 2) sales date/sale price; 3) grantor/grantee; 4) volume and page number; 5) financing terms/source/confirmed by; and 6) appraisal of subject property, date and reason for sale.

Proof of Physical, Functional or Economic Obsolescence

This type of information can be documented in a variety of ways. The best types of documents are usually estimates for repairs from contractors and photographs of physical problems. All documentation should be signed and attested. This means you must furnish "documented" evidence of your property's needs.

Independent Fee Appraisal

Complete copy of the appraisal report with confirmed sales and photographs of comparable properties.

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE:

Sale of Subject Property

Closing statement or sales contract, signed and dated, including a description of the property being transferred and volume and page, if sold during the last 3 years.

Income Approach

Previous year rent roll, rent summary and income/expense statement (typically 3 years of data). Documentation of lease offering rates, lease concessions, effective lease rates and current and historical occupancy, as of January 1 of the current year.

Cost Approach

Construction contract(s), signed and dated, including a detailed description of the work to be performed.

Certified A.I.A. Document G702, or equivalent, with detail. Documentation must reflect all hard and soft costs.

Market Approach

Provide comparable sales of properties that are of similar construction, use, size and shape, age, amenities, location, zoning, and utility availability.

Independent Fee Appraisal

Complete copy of the appraisal report with confirmed sales and photographs of comparable properties. The detail should include: 1) property description; 2) location; 3) land area/building area; 4) year built; 5) grantor/grantee; 6) date of contract/volume and page; 7) sale price; 8) financing terms; 9) basis of sale; and 10) source/confirmed by.

BUSINESS PERSONAL PROPERTY:

The Appraisal District or the ARB must have documented evidence on which to make a ruling in all Business Personal Property cases appearing before them. Normally the form of relevant documents in order of importance are: 1) balance sheets; 2) inventory controls, accounting records, journals, ledgers showing acquisitions by year of purchase; 3) CPA statements of costs; 4) leases pertaining to the property in question; 5) a statement of general accounting policy and procedures, especially concerning the capitalization and expense policy, and should also address inventory methods and whether physical inventory equals book inventory; 6) the basis of depreciation; and 7) a written third party confirmation from a landlord or leasing agent if the business has ceased operations and the assets have been removed prior to January 1.

8. Can I reschedule my ARB hearing?

ARB hearings, not represented by a tax consultant, may be rescheduled without demonstrating any cause one time only. If a property owner/agent misses their scheduled ARB hearing then they can make a one-time reschedule request in writing to the ARB but this written request must be postmarked within 4 days of the scheduled ARB hearing date. The ARB will also reschedule your ARB hearing for good cause. "Good cause" for filing late protests is not defined in Tax Code Section 41.44(b). Claims of good cause for late-filed protests should be carefully considered and standards in making determinations of good cause under Tax Code Section 41.44(b) should be uniformly applied. The ARB should give due consideration to good cause claims in such a manner that properly respects the rights of property owners while not undermining or contravening laws related to filing deadlines or the orderly and expeditious fulfillment of ARB duties.

Good cause reasons may include:

- Active military duty
- Hospitalization or under doctor's care
- Death in the immediate family
- Judicial or Legislative service or a pending court hearing
- Failure to receive administrative due process
- Other matters of good cause as determined by the ARB

Please note all ARB hearing reschedule requests for good cause must be properly documented, filed timely, and submitted in writing to the ARB Chairman at 2949 N. Stemmons Fwy., Dallas, TX 75247.

Family vacations, business conflicts, needing more time to prepare for your hearing, etc., are not considered Good Cause reasons to reschedule your ARB hearing. Alternatives to being rescheduled are:

- Have someone come to the hearing in your place by providing them with written authorization
- Submit your documentation by mail or in person prior to your ARB scheduled hearing by providing the Appraisal District with a written letter signed by you. The hearing will take place whether you are there or not and all information submitted will be considered at the time of your ARB hearing
- Request an earlier ARB hearing if ARB hearing slots are available
- Try to resolve your issue informally with an appraiser prior to your scheduled ARB hearing

The ARB will determine if good cause exists for missing a deadline or a hearing. Good cause as defined by Tax Code Section 41.45 is a reason that includes an error or mistake that was not intentional or was not the result of conscious indifference and will not cause undue delay or injury to the person authorized to extend the deadline or grant a rescheduling. The ARB reschedule policy is outlined in the insert that is sent with your Hearing Notification.

9. Can I cancel my ARB hearing?

If you no longer have an issue and want to withdraw your protest, please mail your withdrawal to the address located at the bottom of your Appraisal Notice and provide your 1) name, 2) property address, 3) DCAD account number and 4) date of the scheduled hearing. If you used the uFile Online Protest Program to file your protest you may also withdraw your protest online.

10. What happens if I do not appear at my scheduled hearing?

If you do not appear in person and no evidence or documentation has been submitted, your protest will be dismissed by the ARB hearing panel. You will be sent a Dismissal Letter from the ARB indicating that action was taken by the ARB.

The ARB determines compliance with procedural requirements and must dismiss a hearing if jurisdictional requirements are not met. A protest will be dismissed for the following reasons:

- A protest was not filed under Tax Code Chapter 41 for the subject property.
- Failure to appear in person/by telephone/by authorized agent at the scheduled hearing and no documentation as submitted.
- AGENT IS DISMISSED FOR FAILURE TO PROVIDE WRITTEN AUTHORIZATION SIGNED BY THE PROPERTY OWNER OR OTHER PERSON AUTHORIZED TO ACT ON BEHALF OF THE PROPERTY OWNER, IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTION 1.111 OF THE PROPERTY TAX CODE
- Taxes on the subject property are delinquent for any prior year, have not been paid in full for the year at issue, or the undisputed tax amount was not paid before the statutory delinquency date
- Dismissed per adjudication (has had a prior hearing for the same matter/year)

Reasons for a DISMISSAL of a Property Tax Protest

Why would a property tax protest be dismissed?

A protest can be dismissed if the Appraisal Review Board (ARB) determines it does not have jurisdiction to hear the case or if certain procedural requirements were not met.

Common reasons include:

- Filing the protest after the legal deadline
- Filing the protest on an issue the ARB is not authorized to decide.
- Failing to appear at the scheduled hearing.
- Filing a protest without proper authorization (for example, by someone not listed as the owner or agent)

Dallas Central Appraisal District

The Protest Process

What does “dismissed on jurisdictional grounds” mean?

“Jurisdictional grounds” means the ARB does not have legal authority to hear or decide the protest.

Examples include:

- The protest was filed late (after the statutory deadline in Tax Code 41.44). The protest does not involve a valid protest ground under Tax Code 41.41 (for example, protesting tax rates or collection issues, which are outside ARB authority)
- The person filing the protest is not the property owner or authorized agent.

Can my protest be dismissed if I do not attend the hearing?

Yes, if you or your authorized agent fail to appear at the scheduled hearing and you did not submit written or electronic documentation before the hearing, your protest may be dismissed.

This type of protest is not jurisdictional-it is procedural-but you will still receive written confirmation that your protest was dismissed for failure to appear.

How can I avoid having my protest dismissed?

- File your protest on time (by the statutory deadline)
- Make sure your protest is based on a recognized ground under 41.41.
- Attend your hearing or submit evidence in advance.
- If you are using an agent, ensure your Agent Authorization Form is properly filed with the Appraisal District before your/their scheduled date.

Why was my protest dismissed for “non-payment of taxes”?

- A protest may be dismissed for adjudication when the issue you are raising has already been resolved in a prior proceeding.
- This means the matter was already adjudicated-that is, heard and decided-by:
- The Appraisal Review Board (ARB)
- A Binding Arbitration, or
- A District court in a previous appeal
- Once a final decision is made in one of these venues, the ARB cannot reopen or re-hear the same issue for the same property and tax year.

E. District Court/Binding Arbitration

1. Do I need to file in District Court or is there another avenue that I can pursue?

After the ARB rules on your protest, the ARB must send you or your agent a written Notice of Final Order by certified mail. If you are dissatisfied with the ARB's decision, you have the right to appeal its decision to the District Court in Dallas County. You must file a petition with the District Court within 60 days of receiving the written order from the ARB.

You will also be required to make, at a minimum, a partial payment of taxes, usually the amount of taxes that are not in dispute, before the delinquency date. You may ask the court to excuse you from prepaying your taxes. You must file an oath of "inability to pay" the taxes in question and argue that prepaying the taxes restrains your right to go to court on your protest. The court will hold a hearing and decide the terms or conditions of your payment.

As an alternative to filing an appeal to district court, a property owner is entitled to appeal an Appraisal Review Board Order Determining Protest through binding arbitration where 1) market or appraised value on real or personal property is valued at $5 million or less; and 2) all residence homesteads, including those valued at more than $5 million.

A property owner must file an RBA (Request for Binding Arbitration) with the Comptroller's office not later than the 60th day after the date the property owner receives the Appraisal Review Board Order Determining Protest. A property owner can (recommended) file the request for RBA and pay the required deposit using the online system at the following site: <https://www.texas.gov/living-in-texas/property-tax-arbitration/>.

Property owners who are not represented by agents and who do not wish to file and pay the deposit online, may file Form AP-219, the Request for Binding Arbitration together with the required deposit, by check or money order made payable to the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts, with the Comptroller's office. If filing a paper copy and not using the online system, you must complete the following:

- 1) A completed request for binding arbitration
- 2) An arbitration deposit in the amount based upon the following parameters
- 3) A copy of the ARB order determining protest for which binding arbitration is requested.

Dallas Central Appraisal District

The Protest Process

Required Deposits

- $450 if the property is the owner's homestead and has a value of $500,000 or less
- $500 if the property is the owner's homestead and has a value of more than $500,000
- $500 for a non-homestead property less than $1 million in value
- $800 for a non-homestead property with a value between $1 million and $2 million
- $1,050 for a non-homestead property with a value between $2 million and $3 million
- $1,550 for a non-homestead property with a value between $3 million and $5 million

This deposit is required for each request for arbitration. Not complying with all of the State Comptroller's instructions may jeopardize your right to arbitration.

As an alternative to filing an appeal in district court, you may appeal to the State Office of Administrative Hearings (SOAH). An appeal to SOAH must be requested no later than the 30th day after you receive your notice of the ARB's Order Determining Protest by filing with the Chief Appraiser of the Dallas Central Appraisal District a notice of appeal with the applicable filing fee. The filing fee to SOAH is $1,500.

F. Other Common Questions

1. What are your typical hours of operation?

The Appraisal District is open from 7:30 AM to 5:00 PM Monday through Friday.

As opposed to visiting DCAD office, DCAD would prefer and encourage you to instead call and speak with an appraiser or customer service representative in order to answer your questions and potentially resolve your issue(s).

If you disagree with DCAD's proposed valuation then prior to having an informal hearing with an appraiser you will need to have already filed a protest and provided evidence for review by appraisal staff. Informal value settlements will occur once a protest has been filed and evidence submitted.

If you do visit our office, please arrive at least 15 minutes prior to office closing. If you have more than multiple issues to discuss with DCAD, then you should arrive well in advance of DCAD's closing times as all discussion with a DCAD staff member should conclude at the close of DCAD's business hours.

2. Are you open on Saturdays?

Yes. Residential (214-905-9402) Division phone lines will be open for Residential property owners to call in on Saturdays, May 2 and May 9 from 8:00 AM – 12:00 PM. These days are for Residential properties only and only by telephone. If you have already filed your protest and submitted evidence

Dallas Central Appraisal District

The Protest Process

then a DCAD appraiser will be able to conduct an Informal Telephone review of your documentation for possible resolution. If you have not filed a protest and submitted evidence with your protest then DCAD staff will likely not be able to resolve your valuation issues during this time frame but rather just answer your questions concerning the protest process.

3. Are there protest hearings late evenings or on Saturdays?

Yes. The Appraisal Review Board will typically designate one Saturday in the month of June for weekend protest hearings. When you file your protest form you may request that you would like to be scheduled on a Saturday. For 2026, five Saturdays have been tentatively designated June 6, 13, 20, 27, and July 11.

4. Why did I not get an appraisal notice?

The Appraisal District is only required to send an appraisal if you rendered your property, if the value increased, or if there was an ownership change. Assuming your property did not meet these criteria, then you would not have been mailed an appraisal notice; however, you can still file a written or online protest (uFile) for the current tax year. All protests must be post marked and/or delivered to our agency on or before May 15, 2026, for residential and commercial properties and on or before June 11, 2026, for business personal property. Also, the Appraisal District publishes and delivers a Notice of Appraised Value on all accounts via an appraisal notice link on the website allowing a taxpayer to view and print an appraisal notice and protest form.

5. Do I have to have a Tax Agent to represent me at the ARB hearing?

No. You can represent yourself at the ARB hearing. However, if you do wish to have a Tax Agent/Consultant represent you, then you must complete an Appointment of Agent form which is mandated by the Texas Property Tax Code, State Comptroller's Property Tax Assistance Division. The form must bear your signature giving the Tax Agent authorization to represent you and must also note an effective date of the agreement. A copy of the form is on the DCAD website (Click Here). Also, if you authorize a local realtor to prepare evidence for you and appear at the hearing before the ARB, that realtor must fill out and complete an authorization form for Single Family Residential Property (Click here). Again, you must sign the form giving the authorization to the realtor. Likewise, if you want to remove the tax agent from your representation, you MUST submit a Revocation of Appointment of Agent form (Click here). The Property Tax Code is very specific that in order to remove a tax agent, the property owner must file a Removal of Agent form revoking the authorization. If you do not revoke the tax agent's authorization then they will remain on your account and can continue to represent you.

6. I am over 65 years of age. Are my taxes frozen?

You may receive a "tax ceiling" for your total school taxes; that is, the school taxes on your home cannot increase as long as you own and live in that home. The tax ceiling is set at the amount you pay in the year that you qualify for the Over-65 homeowner exemption. Other taxing units may adopt a tax ceiling. Please contact the Appraisal District if you have questions concerning this issue. Tax ceilings can go up if you significantly improve your home (other than by ordinary repairs and maintenance). For example, if you add a swimming pool, a garage, a storage building, a room to your home, or significantly remodel your home, your tax ceiling can rise. It will also change if you move to a new home.

Dallas Central Appraisal District

The Protest Process

7. You raised my value more than 10%. How can you? I thought it was limited.

The Texas Property Tax Code states that a residential homestead is limited to a 10% increase. Also, keep in mind:

- Homestead limitations take effect January 1 of the tax year following the first tax year in which the property owner qualifies for the homestead exemption. The owner must have the residence homestead exemption on January 1 of the preceding year to qualify for the limitation. Example 1: A property owner purchases their property in December of 2025, and they qualify for their homestead exemption on January 1, 2026. The homestead limitation will go into effect January 1, 2027. Example 2: A property owner purchases their property in April of 2025 and they qualify for a prorated exemption on April 20 of 2025. The homestead limitation will go into effect January of 2027, one year after the January 1 date the exemption qualified.
- Limitations do not apply to new improvements added in that tax year such as pools, room additions, any new construction, etc.
- Limitations are removed when a property changes ownership.
- Limitations will be shown on the Notice of Appraised Value as "Homestead Capped Limitation".
- All granted exemptions are subtracted from the "Capped" Appraised Value instead of the Market Value.
- "Capped" Appraised Value minus applicable exemptions equals taxable value.
- If a property qualifies for a "Capped" Appraised Value, the District will also maintain a Market Value as well. If you disagree with the Market Value but are in agreement with the "Capped" Appraised Value, you should still protest the Market Value.
- The "Capped" Appraised Value will increase by 10% per year until it eventually equals the Market Value of the property.

8. Can someone look at my property?

The Appraisal District will look at your property at your request under certain restrictions. If an on-site inspection is required, the appointment will be during normal working hours. An inspection request during the Appraisal Review Board (April through July) process would be difficult to schedule due to time and staffing constraints.

9. How do I get sales information?

You should be able to get sales information from real estate agents that sell property in your area.

Dallas Central Appraisal District The Protest Process

You may also call the DCAD offices and talk to a Residential and Commercial appraiser who can provide you the relevant sales data potentially used in the valuation of your property.

The Appraisal District will provide you sales information used in the valuation of your home if a protest has been filed. At the time, an account is scheduled for a hearing, evidence (including sales data) that the Appraisal District may introduce at your hearing will be available on the DCAD website. In the top left hand corner of the Hearing Notification is a PIN No. (#). You may go to the DCAD website, www.dallascad.org to access your account, and enter the PIN No. (#) and it will provide you the information and data (including sales data) on your property account and other potential evidence DCAD used in establishing the market value of your property.

10. Why is my residential property in the Commercial property file?

Your residential property may be located in an area that has more of a commercial (including retail, office, or industrial) influence than residential or the predominant zoning is commercial. This often occurs in areas where smaller businesses use converted residences to accommodate their neighborhood friendly business. These businesses are likely to be law offices, medical offices, beauty salons, art galleries, flower shops, antique stores, and restaurants.

11. How do you justify an increase in my commercial property?

Your commercial property can increase due to its location, demand, and increasing rental rates of similar properties in the subject market area. This can occur without having your property rehabilitated or remodeled. Your commercial property can increase due to a rapid increase in population in your area. This will likely create more demand for commercial space that leads to better rents.

12. How does my value increase when other properties are decreasing in value?

Property values in general or countywide may not represent your specific market area or neighborhood. The average sale price or rental rate per unit in your area may exceed the average price for the entire county. Properties that are located in these areas are likely more desirable and have a higher rate of occupancy or absorption, which leads to better rents and sale prices.

13. What is a statement of authenticity?

For all Business Personal Property properties, documentation submitted must include a statement of authenticity. This statement identifies the documentation provided and certifies it to be true and accurate to the best of the property owner's knowledge and must be signed by the property owner. This is especially for business personal property books and records. If the information is received from a CPA, the license number must be provided.

Dallas Central Appraisal District The Protest Process

14. Are lessees allowed to protest their values?

A person leasing tangible personal property or real property who is contractually obligated to reimburse the property owner for taxes imposed on the property is entitled to protest before the Appraisal Review Board the appraised value of the property if the property owner does not file a protest relating to the property. A person bringing the protest is considered the owner of the property for purposes of the protest. The Appraisal Review Board shall deliver a copy of any notice relating to the protest and of the order determining the protest to the owner of the property and the person bringing the protest. Unless waived by contract, the property owner shall send to the person leasing the property a copy of any notice of the property's reappraisal within 10 days from the date received. Failure of the owner to send a copy of the notice to the person leasing the property does not affect the time within which a person leasing the property may protest the appraised value. The lessee may request the chief appraiser to send the notice to the lessee not less than 5 days after the notice is sent to the property owner if the lessee demonstrates to the appraisal district that they are responsible for the taxes. However, the chief appraiser is not required to send a notice to a lessee that makes this request if the appraisal district posts the appraised value of the property on their website not later than five days after sending the notice to the owner.

The party initiating the protest must file a written notice of the protest with the Appraisal Review Board by the protest deadline. A lessee may designate someone to represent them on their behalf for purposes of protesting their value. The property owner, not the lessee, must initiate any motions to correct the appraisal roll.

The above information is an extract and summarization from the Property Tax Assistance Division publication, "Property Tax Basics".
